

No, although it is always helpful to have a high school diploma or equivalent, it is not required for the program.